OUT OF THE INTO THE

Darkness
Light

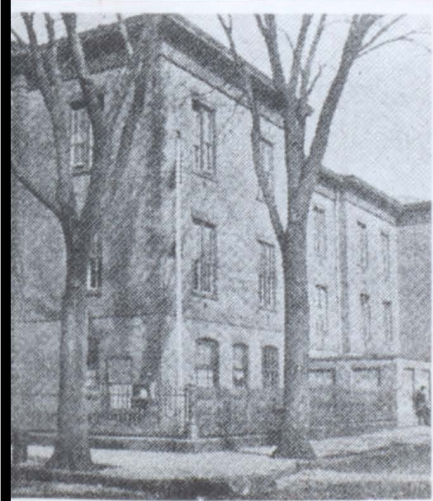

Imagine young scholar, the candle lit streets of the 1800's; the farms and gardens that surrounded an incomplete city; the unpaved streets of the emerging town. And now look around and witness how the ancient swamp of this town has turned out cherry-blossoms and grass in vibrant green in summer and frosty white in winter. Who would have believed that such a place as a "goat hill" would be the establishment where minds would join in conquest of some light shed into their lives. It was and is the placement of our Barringer 160 years ago.

Like the 1800's and yet before that time, like the light that was not common for us to see until now, mankind and aspiring minds as us have entered a journey from ignorance to the conquest of knowledge and power.

Darkness prevailed and may still do from then till now, but a fight has been put up to seek the ardent light for the guiding of our paths.

DARKNESS = IGNORANCE LIGHT = MATURITY

A journey began four years ago in Barringer, when we all took on the challenge to complete an education. Obscurity to many subjects, academic as well as life related, gave way to our ignorance. But soon, through perseverance, determination, and many thousands of hours at school, we have achieved academic and personal maturity. We have found and ignited the light which made it possible for us to see through a darkness of unexplored truth.

As Smirah Lambert looks on, Wendell Telcide points out a picture of Freud to Celeste Zayas.

Madeline Garcia writes child care tips as she interviews Josie Perez.

Michael Moses, Angel Rios, Edden Rivera, & George Michael stop to pose for a picture.

"Yikes, I've invented Life," says Jose Lopez.

"Hey girls, don't forget me," says Michael Moses to Rosa Faulkner, Venetta Ellerbe, and Seddeequah Wilkins.

After the death of the influential superintendent, Dr. William Barringer, Newark High School was renamed Barringer High School.

Teachers

Barringer has been the heart of our education. We have been the running circulation. And our teachers, those beings who have given us so much, have been our interlocking veins from where we have gained advise, direction, lessons, scoldings, and knowledge. They have rendered hours and minutes of their time to make us understand the obscure. They are but just the few who have embedded inspiration from where we now conclude to make our own aspirations. We leave here now, to many of us, our second parents, and our role models.

Inspiration

In times of worry and of meaningless delirium, give not the process signal for the destruction of yourself, or of others.

Negativity is only a move to make us think and replenish our thoughts with positivity. Wake up among the glistening sun, the splendid rainbow in a summer shower, the icy mountain peaks, and the ivory shimmer of the moon at night. Then smile about the beauty to which you are intermingled. Be not discouraged for you are a million times the strongest being, the greatest survivor, the lively inspiration of the light that sprints beyond the shadows of the darkness which envelopes the world. Believe in yourself and what you want and the summit of your goals shall be more easily accessible.

Marvin Santiago, Jeannette Aponte, and Ebony Nelson discuss Barringer's murals with two freshman students.

"So, the world is round," says Maria Grant to Kenya Brooks, Melissa Hunt, Jessica Benavides, Shaylynn Daughety, and Emmanuel Soto.

INDEPENDENCE

Today we embark into the world to move as freely as the morning bird swims among the vast sea of clouds. We have been closely guarded by our loving parents as a treasure with many jewels and hearts of gold. It is now the time in which we free ourselves from our usual directional attachments, and break into an unconfined ocean of Independence.

LAST GRADUATING CLASS OF THE CENTURY

Consider yourselves special, unique, exquisite and precious, because you form a part of this school and its great history. We are officially the last class of the 1990's, the last class of the 20th Century, and the last graduating class of this Millenium. We are the future of our world, the fine and broad lines of every shape, and an essential part of our evolving Earth. United, every culture, race, sex, and etc., we have survived through hardships and joined in celebration on a day when we all shall see it as the eternal 1999.

The imprint we have made is everlasting in the minds and hearts of each other. We are the Blue Bear Pride of Barringer.

Valedictorian

Robinson Salgurero

I was born in Roosevelt Hospital of Guatemala City, Guatemala, Central America on the day of July 22, 1981, a few minutes after midnight. I am the youngest child. I have two older brothers and sisters. My mother, Aida Arriaza, thought much about my future, and so at the age of four I traveled to the United States of America on April 19, 1985 to the town of Kearny, New Jersey where I resided for about two and a half years.

There was a struggle for me to adapt to a new language and a totally different world from my home in Guatemala, but I think that by now I have overcome this very important obstacle, which is of much importance to be understood and perhaps accepted. I later moved to Newark, New Jersey and entered elementary school at Elliot Street where I completed grades 1-5. I then attended Luis Munoz Marin Middle School to complete grades 6-8.

Soon after, I decided to attend Barringer High School. During my first years at Barringer I was confronted with influences that have led me to have a bit more knowledge about school and life in general. Graduation from this institution has been a goal that I was determined to complete and in doing so I now set another summit to climb to, which is attaining a professional career in engineering by attending college in the fall of 1999.

Salutorian

Maria Grant

One of the most challenging experiences I have ever had was entering and becoming a part of Barringer High School. As a freshman, coming from Canada, I found it difficult to cope with the cultural and policy differences that surrounded me in my new environment.

Senior high school life was a major change in itself. The thing that made the transition especially trying for me was the fact that I came onto the scene completely misinformed about "American" high school students. I had previously been bombarded with stereotypes that depicted inner city students as criminals and violent people. Therefore, I stayed to myself and walked a self-imposed tightrope over an imaginary lion's den. That time soon ended through the encouragement of my teachers and the sincere interest of my peers, who went to great lengths to get me out of my shell.

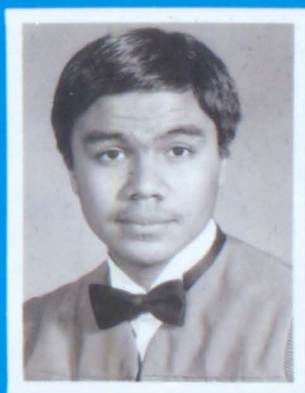

As time moved on, I realized that people weren't out to get me, so I began to get involved with Barringer. I have spent time working on our literary productions, raising money for our Student Council and Future Teachers Club, and have had the pleasure of knowing that I made a difference in the student life here at Barringer.

After graduation I plan to further my education. The first goal I want to achieve is earning my Bachelors of Science Degree in Nursing. I hope to attain this degree at Rutgers University, here in Newark.

Now, as I take a minute to look back on everything that has happened here since this year's Senior Class members were freshmen, I feel blessed to have been a part of a rewarding and memorable experience that will never be forgotten. I am thankful and will always be indebted to my special teachers who took it upon themselves to give me the tools necessary to achieve my goals.

Best Wishes- We Will Miss You

You entered our lives in the fall of Nineteen-Ninety Five
It is four years later and and we've all survived!

When you came to Barringer High School
We thought, "another group of freshmen- Oh My, Oh My!"

But somehow, believe it or not, you took your special place. And for the last four years you have shared our space.

We have played hard, but worked even harder
Now, we know that each of you are much smarter.

The time has come for us to bid you farewell,
We'll each miss you far more than we'er willing to tell.

You will walk through our final ceremony by June 29,
You will be missed next year whether it rains or shines.

You' ve become a great part of our tradition
But by law, you must make another transition.

You will each seek your fortune as out into this world you go,
The road that's less traveled will be more difficult, you know.

You'll always find a friend, you'll always find a place,
Among the staff who have grown accustomed to your face.

No matter how far into this world you roam,
Barringer High is a place that you can always call home

Much Love and Respect,
Mrs. Ra'oof- Malik,
and
Ms. Parsons

GRAND FINALE

All eyes are glued on the front of the church.

The audience in the Sacred Heart Basilica was hushed with anticipation as Pomp and Circumstance played in the background. The aisle was crowded, cameras were loaded with film, and all heads rotated in the direction of the doors. The class of 1999 was expected to make their grand entrance.

Soon caps and gowns all a blaze in blue and white appeared at the entrance. The participants in this historic event with tears in their eyes, began their momentous march.

The proud parents and friends rushed to greet the graduates as they exited the Cathedral. Many hearts were filled with contentment as the years of hard work finally resulted in triumph.

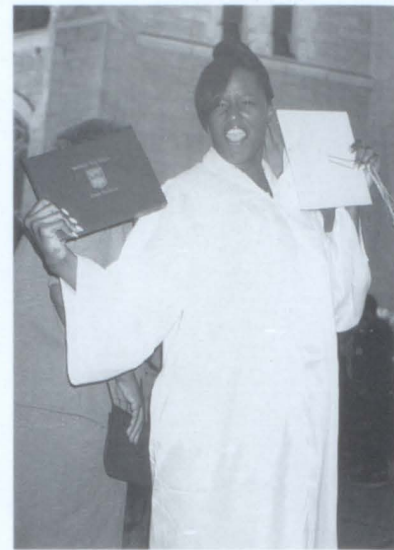

That single piece of paper signifying the fact that their teen years of schools were behind them gave students a sense of accomplishment, the ability to believe in themselves, and the chance to make a difference. "Their opportunities are limitless...they are the best," said the parent of one teen graduate through tear drenched eyes.

But through all the happiness and tears of joy, sadness poked through the feeling of exaltation into everyone's hearts. For as we scatter to all ends of the globe, this would undoubtedly be the last time we would embrace many of our classmates.

Long, warm hugs and smiles of support were exchanged by the class, as they promised to accept the challenge of life now thrust upon them. Sentiments of long time friendships, and the knot which held the class of 1999 together, helped seniors share a final moment of gratification that will linger forever.

"Don't I look scholarly," says Chrystal Williamson.

"I'm the bomb," says Maria Grant, as she raises her diploma high.

After the ceremony Jennifer Pichardo proudly holds her diploma.

Taste of Latino

It was a day for pride, heritage, sound, celebration, and camaraderie as students and teachers joined on the second annual salute to Hispanic heritage.

The month of October is recognized as Hispanic Heritage Month and of course, Barringer High School was in on the celebration.

During the week, students solicited donations for the Hurricane George victims. Since many students have relatives in Santo Domingo and Puerto Rico, Student Council wanted to provide a community service to the storm stricken areas.

In addition, since Student Council wanted to salute Hispanic Heritage a partnership was formed with Aspira, and Aspira Day was born. Marvin Santiago, president of Aspira and Student Council member became the liaison between the two organizations.

To mark Aspira Day, Aspira members agreed to participate with the Student Council in a "Taste of Our Heritage" event. Samplings of Hispanic foods were offered in the school cafeteria during the lunch periods.

Students, parents, and staff members brought in dishes for sampling. Flags representing the various spanish countries were hung on the wall.

A considerable food donation was made by BHS alumnus Johann Sanchez, which helped make the taste of Latino, a smashing success. Proceeds from the tasting was also added to the Hurricane George collection.

By the end of the week, students had raised $651.69 to be sent to the Red Cross for Hurricane George's victims.

Aspira and Student Council acknowledged Ian Lugardo, Iris Loranzo, Juliza Garica, Jessica Benavides, Juan Morillo, Betsy Rodriguez, Samirah Lambert, Natalie Rodriguez, Mr. Rodriguez, Spanish teacher, Maritza Rodriguez, clerk and Johann Sanchez, for their food donations.

The alliance recognized Mr. Vincent Immerso's period 1 class giving the largest donations, and Mr. James Steadman for the largest single donation.

Those instrumental in the success of this project were: Kenya Brooks, Eric Carrillo, Raymond Lowe, John Nivafor, Seon Paton, Melissa Hunte, Maria Grant, Alexis Resto, Cyria Harrell, Jose Lao, Edwin Rodriguez, Olvin Garcia, Jeffrey Bohler, Venus Mejia, Martin Cruz, Amber Feliciano, Michelle Paredes, Jessica Tyler, Saddeequah Wilkins, Ms. Smith Gregory's third period class and Aspira members.

After many long days of practice and sweat by Barringer students the most exciting day finally arrived. On this cloudy friday night the doors of the school auditorium were clogged with spectators waiting for hours to enter. Inside were the models nervously scrambling around, while applying makeup and getting dressed. Barringer High School was hosting the annual fashion show. Jonathan White, the show coordinator, worked with Student Council advisor Deborah Smith to assure the models retain their confidence.

When the curtains finally opened, the business outfit made it's debut. The professionalism of these models impressed the audience by their attitude and personality. After this, half of the 55 models entered the stage wearing a passionate red which gave elegance and glamour to what promised to be an unforgettable night. The models again demonstrated elegance in the showing of the prom dress. Luis Avesillas, an alumnus and experienced model, demonstrated the purity of his love on-stage by giving his girlfriend a rose.

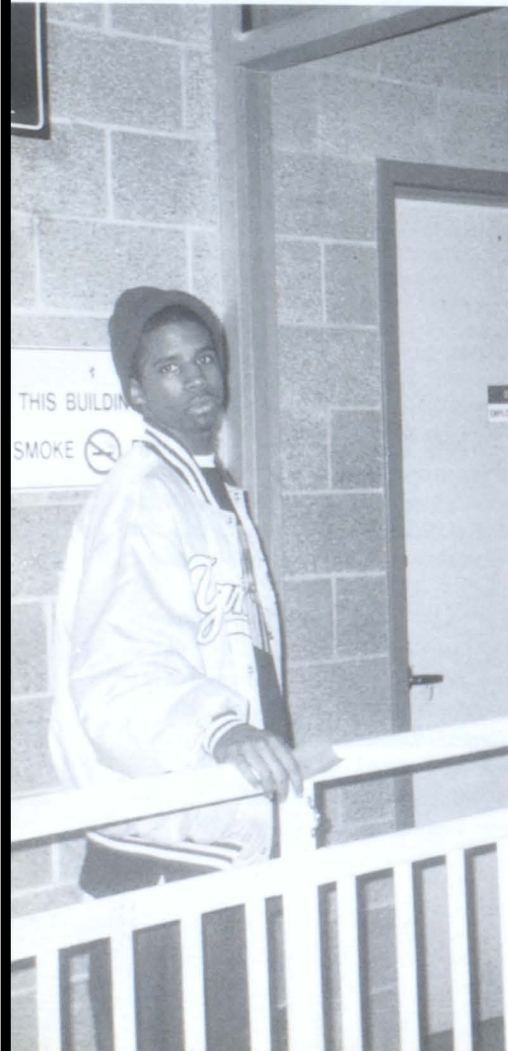

Finally the often anticipated swimwear segment, again demonstrated the professionalism of the participating students. Conservatism with elegance topped off this spot.

B.H.S. Skate Party

Student Council presented a skate party on February 25, 1999 at Branch Brook Skate Center. The rink opened up at 6 p.m. for Barringer students and friends. The skate party was jamming or began with a variety of music and hard beats. B.H.S. had a skate contest; doubles and singles. In doubles Shavelle Hall and Self Hallas were partners. The winners were Trevor and Mummad. In singles there were Damar Christian, Jaison Frazier and Hiane Tyelr. The winner was Damar Christian. The party ended at 9 p.m.

TALENT SHOW

For more than a decade, Barringer High School has been privileged to see and hear the talents of their students. On, Friday 5, 1999, the magic occurred again. On this day the Drama Club held their annual talent show, and it proved to be a great success.

We really have to thank Mrs. Antoniette Baskerville and members of the Drama Club for putting this all together. And as a plus, she and Mrs. Debra Smith Gregory even performed Rap for the audience.

Barringer's students showed off their skills in 4 different categories: solos, duets, rap, and groups. In the Solo category, 5 winners emerged. First place went to David Richardson, second to Sharell Headen, third, Kim Gabriel, fourth, Anthony Williams, and fifth to Latasha Berry. In the Duet category Jeffery Bohler and Anthony Williams took first place, second went to Brunilda Lozano and Raymond Smith, and third, Tyseem Stevens and Shaylynn Frazier. In Rap category, first place was bagged by Eric Carillo, Jamell Haqq, and Eddie Barrios, second to Gumby Zurita and Freddrick Collins, and third to Dwayne Yankana and Hollis Daniels. The Dance Mixers won first place for best costume, and second went to Tyseem Stevens and Shaylynn Frazier. In third place was David Acevedo who performed a little dance routine.

The Solo singers calmed and mellowed down the audience with their beautiful voices. Kimberly Morris sounded great while singing "No, No, No," by Destiny's Child. After the solos performed the duets took the stage, and they were just as exciting as the solos. Jessica Vega along with James Samah performed, "Nobody's Supposed to be Here," by Deborah Cox. This caused the audience to become both hyper and relaxed at the same time.

After the intermission, we listened to our future professional rappers, who had the audience clapping and stomping. Then, we watched our group performers, Rafael Rodriquez, Nereida Toledo, and Anthony Williams dance to "El Baile Del Swing". They had the crowd swinging, too.

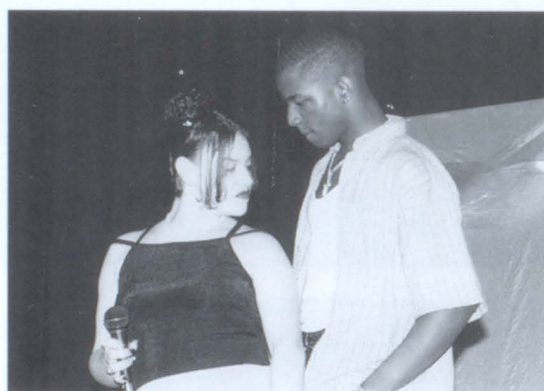

Winners received either a trophy or a ribbon! Although there were many prizes that were given, all the performers were winners. If the audience's reaction to the show is any indication of accomplishment, this reporter would say the show was a great success. All those in attendance hope the talent shows continue because after a decade of such high quality performance, the show must go on.

B.H.S. SOUL FOOD '99

The Student Council presented the Soul Food Luncheon and there was a tremendous donation from staff members and students. We had barbecue chicken, jurk chicken, rice, potato salad, carrot cake, rice cake, corn bread, peach cobbler, and the list goes on. We worked very hard to have one of the greatest spectacular events at Barringer High School.

Senior Class Ski Adventure

"Which way to the Ski Lodge," say Venetta Ellerbe and Berverly Berry.

On Friday, February 12, 1999 the senior class of Barringer High were on their way to Bear Mountain, Spring Glen, N.Y. for their senior trip. We had six fabulous meals which included two "all you can eat" smorgasbord buffet breakfasts, with a variety of entrees to satisfy our heartiest appetites. We also had two light buffet meals and two smorgasbord dinners featuring an assortment of entrees with a salad bar and desserts.

When we arrived, we checked into the hotel and were given our keys to the rooms. We immediately went swimming, and then relaxed in the Jacuzzi. Later on that night, we went to a party which was given in the disco room downstairs. Everyone danced even the students who didn't know how.

Saturday morning we went skiing. Besides falling in the snow, we also had the opportunity to go snow tubing, play miniature golf, bowling, and ice skating.

By Sunday everyone was in tremendous pain, tired and broke. Overall, we all enjoyed ourselves and had a lot of fun. Our advisors, Mrs. Malik and Ms. Parsons, who accommodated us on this trip, had just as much fun as we did, and probably more.

"Hey I didn't fall, I'm just chillin,'" says Shakir Rogers

"That's right we're bad!," say Blue Bear skiers.

"I could be a ski instructor," says Jesus Lopez.

"Get us to those slopes," say Blue Bear Seniors.

"Yeh, that's right we're group break dancing," say Barringer Seniors.

"Eleven o'clock and we're ready to party," say Ra-Ra, Sam, Ray, Manny, Jesus, and Vennetta.

"Get me down from here," says Kamiko James to Ike.

"Somebody help me up!," says Samantha McClinton.

"Don't mess with us," say 3 seniors as they take a break from the slopes.

Shakir Rogers blows smoke rings in the pool.

"Paintball shooting beats skiing," say 5 senior boys.

"What was I thinking when I agreed to go skiing?," says Samantha to Raymond.

"Please take us home," say Mrs. Malik, Samirah Lambert, & Mrs. Parsons.

"Just got off the Black Diamond Slope," says Scoquia Lee.

"Now this is more like it!," Raymond Lowe, Samantha McClinton, Vennetta Ellerbe, Scoquia Lee, Manny Miranda, Samirah Lambert, Naeem Richardson, and Ikwaan Smith.

Leaving OUR MARK

If you have ventured into the home economics end of the school building, you probably became aware of the children in the Infant Toddler Center. The center, which opened in the fall of 1987, accommodates 12 toddlers and 8 infants, all between the ages of 6 months and 3 years of age. Here, teen mothers and fathers who are students at Barringer, have the opportunity to continue their education, without having to worry about who will babysit their child. At the center are coordinator Mrs. Meravi and her assistants Brenda Stevens, Lourdes Rodriguez, Rosalind McMillan, Wilma Rodriguez and Ana Gonzalez. Their daily routine consists of feeding and caring for the children, daily health checks, singing circle time songs and fingerplays, providing a variety of art activities, and teaching age appropriate learning skills that help the children's growth and development. The students participating in the program are required to take a teen parenting class where they learn parenting skills, the stages of child development, childhood safety, and discipline with love.

The National Honor Society members must meet high standards of scholarship, character, service, and leadership. During the school year, the National Honor Society offers services and works on raising activities for the school. These members are distinguished at graduation by wearing gold tassels. Members of the National Honor Society have shown good credentials during their high school years by having outstanding grades and being responsible as a student. The National Honor Society is sponsored by Ms. Donna Stridaccio.

ACADEMIC DECATHLON

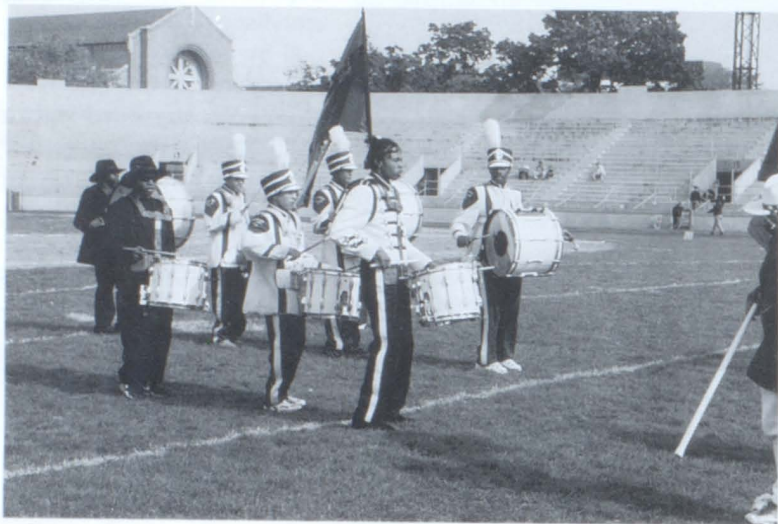

The Academic Decathlon is a series of interscholastic competitions for high school teams held nationwide to encourage and reward academic effort and excellence. Members of the Academic Decathlon have to be well prepared in the fields of mathematics, science, economics, literature, and fine arts to compete with other schools in New Jersey. Furthermore, each member has to present an essay and be interviewed by a panel of business people. The last event is called the Super Quiz, which is the most exciting portion of the long competition. Members are chosen by essays that they submit from whatever field they choose to write about. Ms. Donna Stridaccio is the sponsor of the Academic Decathlon.

Zondre Lightner, Raymond Lowe, Felicia Davis, Carmen Alvarado, Elainy Alvarado, Ms. Donna Stridaccio.

THE MARCHING BAND

The Marching Band performs for the school in assemblies, school concerts, and for the Barringer Football Team. They march and play band music in rhythm with the Color Guards. The band has practiced after school in preparation for parades, and other events around the city. The Marching Band is sponsored by Ms. Tominic.

The Do Something Club

Iris Lozano, Chrystal Williamson, Kenya Brooks, Shakirah Wynn, D. Smith-Gregory.

Do Something is a National Organization designed to help students learn to become better leaders and make their communities a better place to live. Newark Do Something is a city wide league of Newark schools who plan, dream, and act on making Newark a better community. Students get an opportunity to experience the power of their actions and ideals as leaders. Some projects BHS Do Something have sponsored are: a Health Fair, School Spirit Week and joint ventures with other school based groups. This year, Do Something students held a press conference with former Senator Bill Bradley expressing views and concerns about their dreams, ambitions, and fears. BHS was the top high school to win the Newark Do Something Acts Of Kindness and Justice Challenge. This city's wide event challenges students to commit as many acts of kindness and justice as possible within the two week period following Dr. King's Birthday. BHS Do Something has made great strides in its first year.

Computer Graphics

Computer technology is emerging as the popular research field of the twentieth century. Whenever we turn on the television, we are bombarded with images that computers have shaped. Computer Graphics is a club advised by Mr. Sal Di Gerlando, for students who have an interest in using the computer as a design tool. The members are trained to generate graphics, and use software to create professional publications. Alumni who have participated in this club have utilized their knowledge to the computer in the business environment.

BEAUTIFICATION CLUB

The Beautification Club consists of student members who have established a goal to clean-up Barringer's environment, and maintain a suitable atmosphere during the school year. Besides a general clean-up and evaluation during the meetings, members work along with the custodian staff by reporting any missing objects to the school director of custodians for replacement. The Beautification Club is sponsored by Ms. Donna Stridacchio.

Alexandro Lugo, Carmen Alvarado, Kenya Brooks, Zondre Lighter, Ms. Donna Stridacchio, Jesus Lopez, Francisco, Chester Alaniz.

THE MURAL CLUB

Founded in 1997, the Mural Club began its quest to beautify the school by bringing to life the plain and unrevealing walls that were harshly attacked by negative writing and destruction. Members meet and work together in groups, they have fun, they enjoy meals, take various trips to NYC and receive a good and positive response from everyone. The members have the intention of making the school more visually appealing to the eye and hope that the student body learns to respect and appreciate the school.

Athenaeum Staff

This year's yearbook staff members had to work very hard on designing layouts, art work and choosing pictures. The editors-in-chief are Samantha McClinton and Teresa Clayton. The editors in the following sections are Alexandro Lugo in Student Life, Yanelly Santos in Dividers, Robinson Salguero in Opening and Closing, Daniela Ventura in Faculty, and Carmen Alvarado in Directory. We all worked together to create the rest of this memorable book that graduates will treasure for a lifetime. As part of the Athenaeum Staff, these dedicated students spent long hours of their time to come after school everyday to meet there deadlines. The yearbook staff is advised by Mr. Sal DiGerlando.

Acropolis News

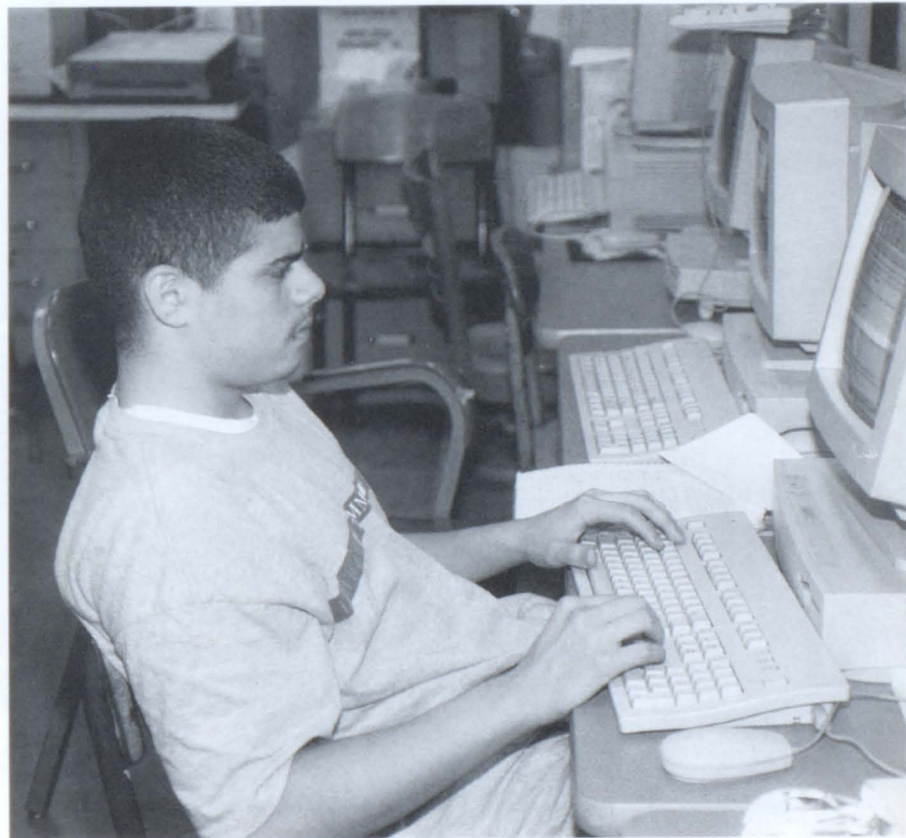

The Acropolis News began its literary foundation early during the latter part of the 1890's where it became independent from the joint relationship it had with the early year-book and annual high school publications of the 1800's. Volume 139 marks our 110th Anniversary whereby we have celebrated our schools 160th year. Our staff is composed of much more than persons. It is formed by individuals who have taken the duty of writing, illustrating, editing, creating layouts, typing, and collaborating together in five impacting issues which bring students of Barringer an outlook on issues of interest that affect us in many ways. Our goal is to inform the public with quality writing and at the same time educate our readers about events that take place in our surrounding.

Volleyball

The girl's volleyball games this year were exciting to watch as well as play. It wasn't easy for the team but they played with their hearts as well as their minds. The coach, Ms. Morton said that this year's volleyball team was weak in the beginning, but improved by the end of the season. Their strengths were spikes, sportmanship and the ability to look out for each other.

Kenya Brooks say she just want to play the game.

Oh, I hope the ball doesn't hit my face this time" says Olkania Alvarado.

Girl's Bowling

Bowling is a sport which when mastered can be played well into adulthood. The Barringer Girl's Bowling Team worked hard to create a winning season. Since they were generally a young team, they can utilize the skills learned and carry them into next year. Coach Ceceri maintained that sweat and determination during the off-season prepare each player for a more successful season next year.

Golf

The golf Season brought together all those who wanted to learn more about a game that can be played from childhood to adult. As a popular sport for non-aggressive athletes, golf is a game that's fun to learn especially for those who plan to enter the business world. Most kids don't know that this game actually is more exciting than it appears.

Boys Volleyball

This year the boy's volleyball team faced many challenges during the season. Disregarding some of their losses, the players always kept their heads up and demonstrated positive thinking toward the game; that's where the actual victory occurred. Each player was a winner in his heart, and that feeling is more important than stomping on the opposition.

Barringer Vs. Passaic

Blue Bears played a home game against Passaic the third week in March of 1999. In this game the team was very determined to win. Their defense was excellent and their offense pushed forward for the winning points. The starters, Jaison Frazier #13, Kevin Freeman #31, Charles Robinson, #23, Shalkin Hall, and Abraham Johnson #10 all shot a great game. The BLUE BEARS had positive attitudes about overcoming Passaic. Having confidence in themselves our BLUE BEARS won with passion.

Blue Bears vs. Pirates

Starting his second year as head coach, Anthony Fischetti had a mission: "To win more games than last year". "Last years team was very different than this year," said coach Fischetti. "The talent pool was large last year, but the team had too many conflicts within themselves. This year's team was not equipped with a lot of star players, they went in and played as a unit, day in and out. Most of the games that we lost were heart-breakers, one point or two," explained coach Fischetti.

After a dismal start of 1-5 they rebounded to complete the year at 17 wins and 10 loses. And in their wake they defeated the No. 2 & No. 3 seed in the county.

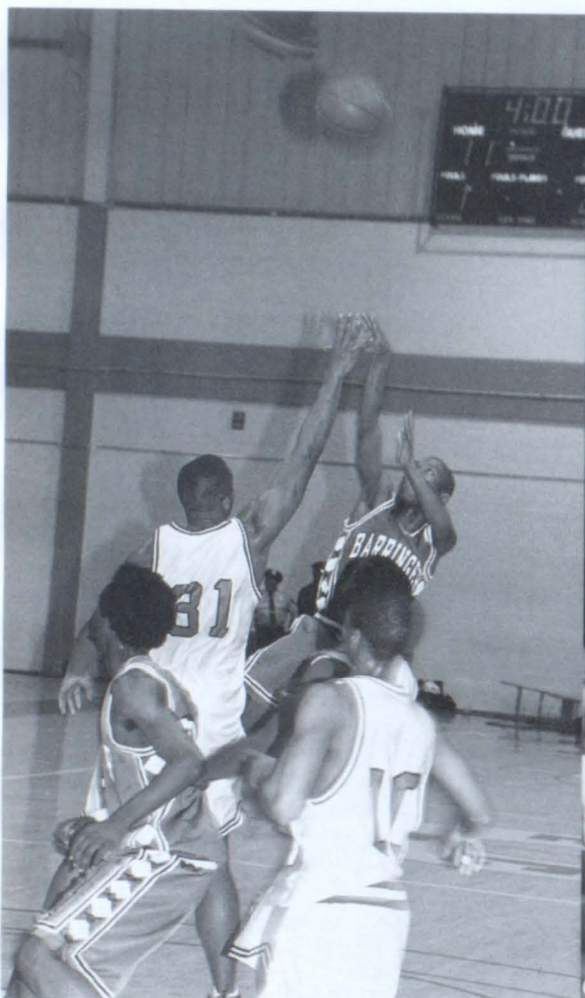

"Their skills on the court showed that they were good, but off the court their performance was outstanding, and that reflected how they played," stated Fischetti.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

Tamika Ambey, Reese Key, Tanisha Sykes, Alminah Sillah, Patunce Slue, Coach Frank Schapitl.

Even though the Barringer Girls Basketball Team did not have a terrific season, they showed great effort and team support. Throughout the season they had the dedication of attending practice and putting out their best to effect the outcome of each game. Their continuing persistence to do better has afforded the welcoming and positive thinking of the student body who supports them 100%.

Patience Slue steals the ball and is in possession of the ball.

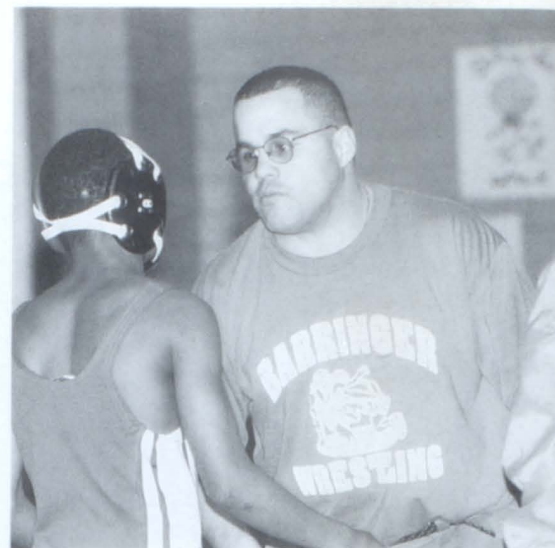

Reese Key sets, jumps, and aims in an all star form.

BLOOPERS

I'm doing the Visine, Colgate, and Wet & Wild commercials.

It's Friday, time for my shower.

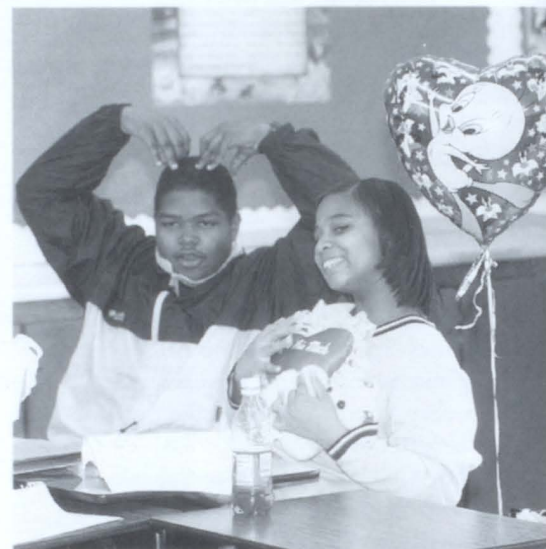

Hey Mrs. Lopez, why do you let her wear a hat and me?

Yeah, I'm the teacher now, you want to beef about it?

Gee Mr. Rivers, what makes you think I have to go to the bathroom?

"I'm a little teapot, short & . . ."

Tee, hee, let me give you a massage.

Hey, you don't need those.

I'm not asleep. I'm waiting for prince charming to kiss me.

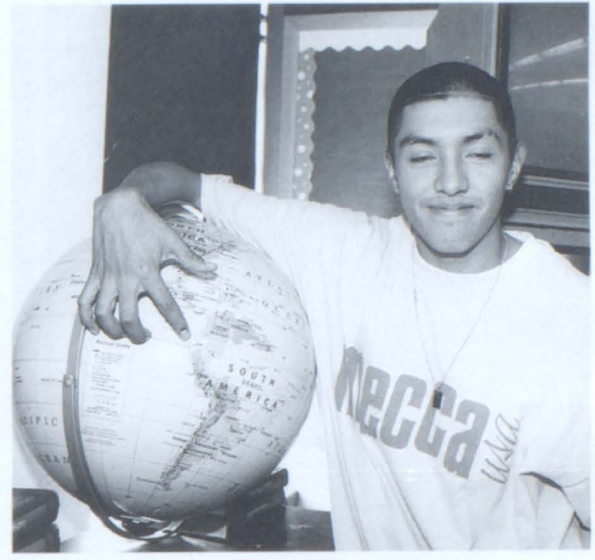

So we practicing to cross the threshold.

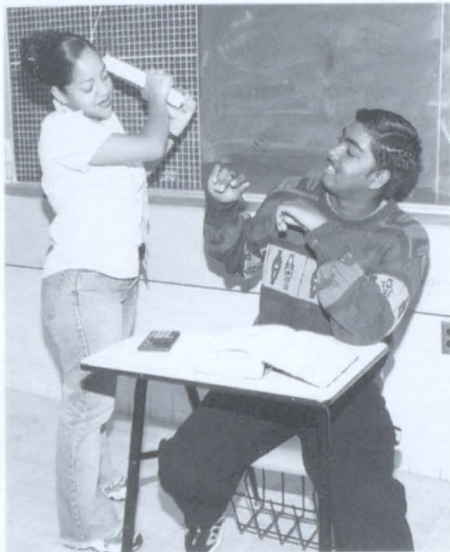

Somebody forgot to tell them the fashion show was in March.

& BLUNDERS

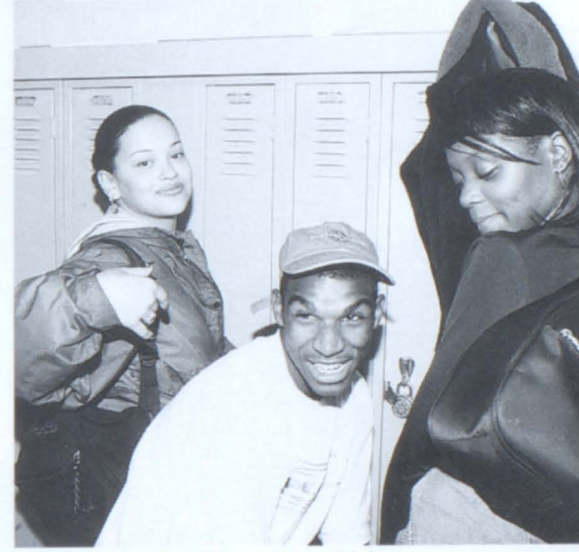

Move over Leo, I am king of the world!

You want me to go to the prom with you — wearing what?

Judge Judy ain't all that.

Getting Jiggy with it.

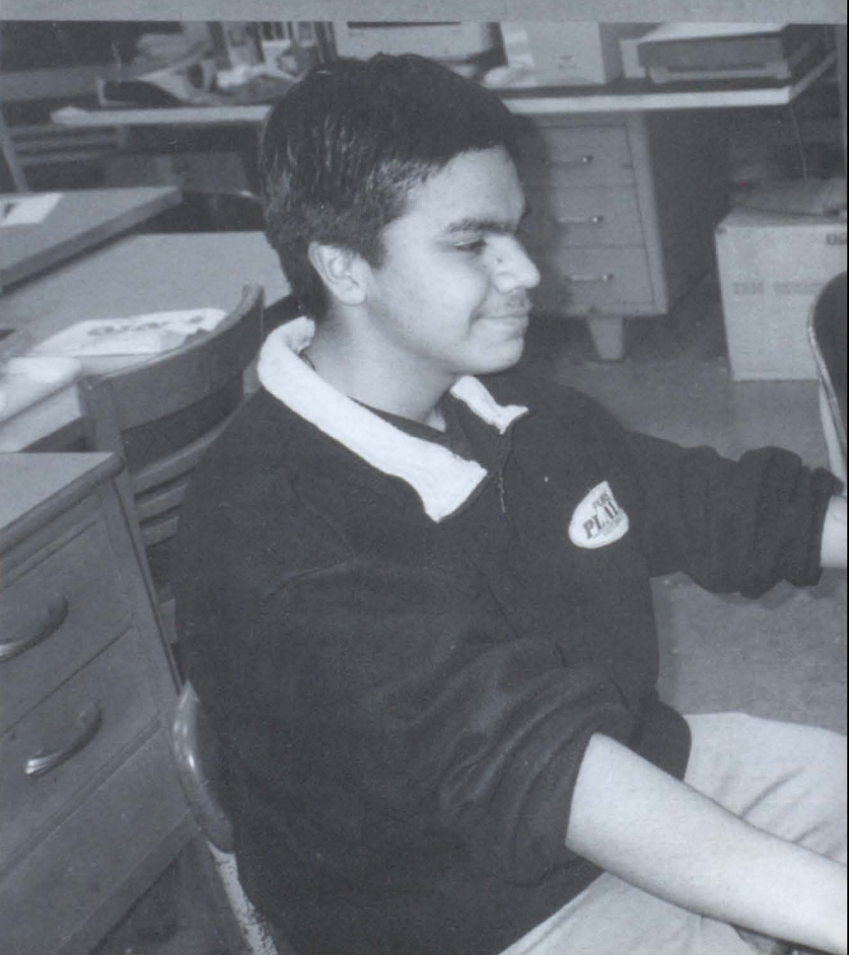

You can call it ascience experiment if you like, but I need a wheel for my bike.

That's it — Give me my ball back. I'm going home.

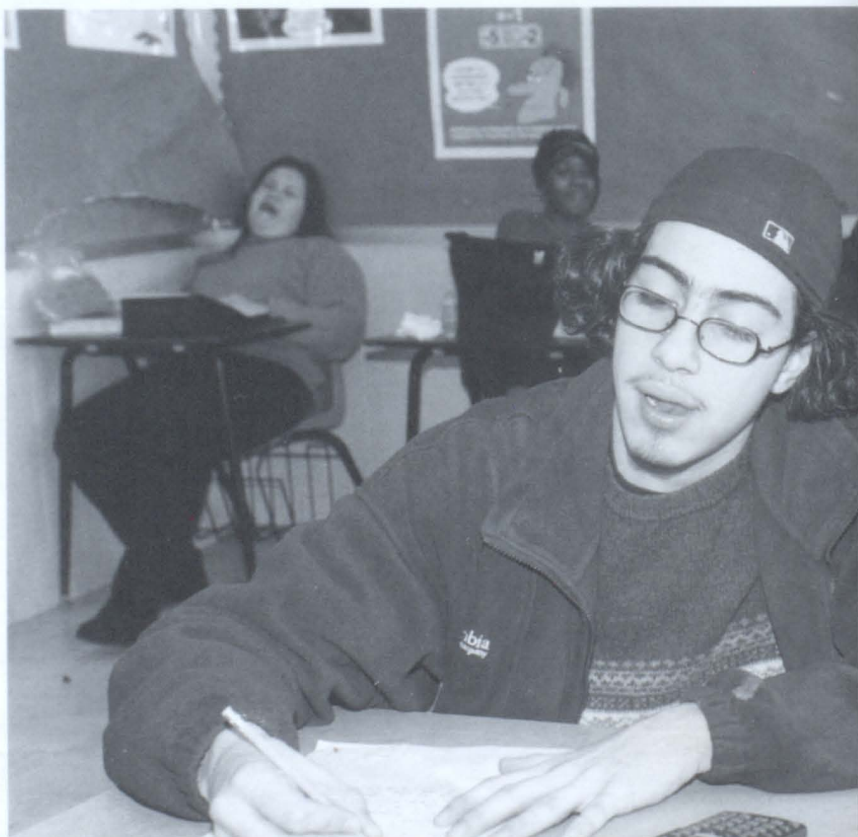

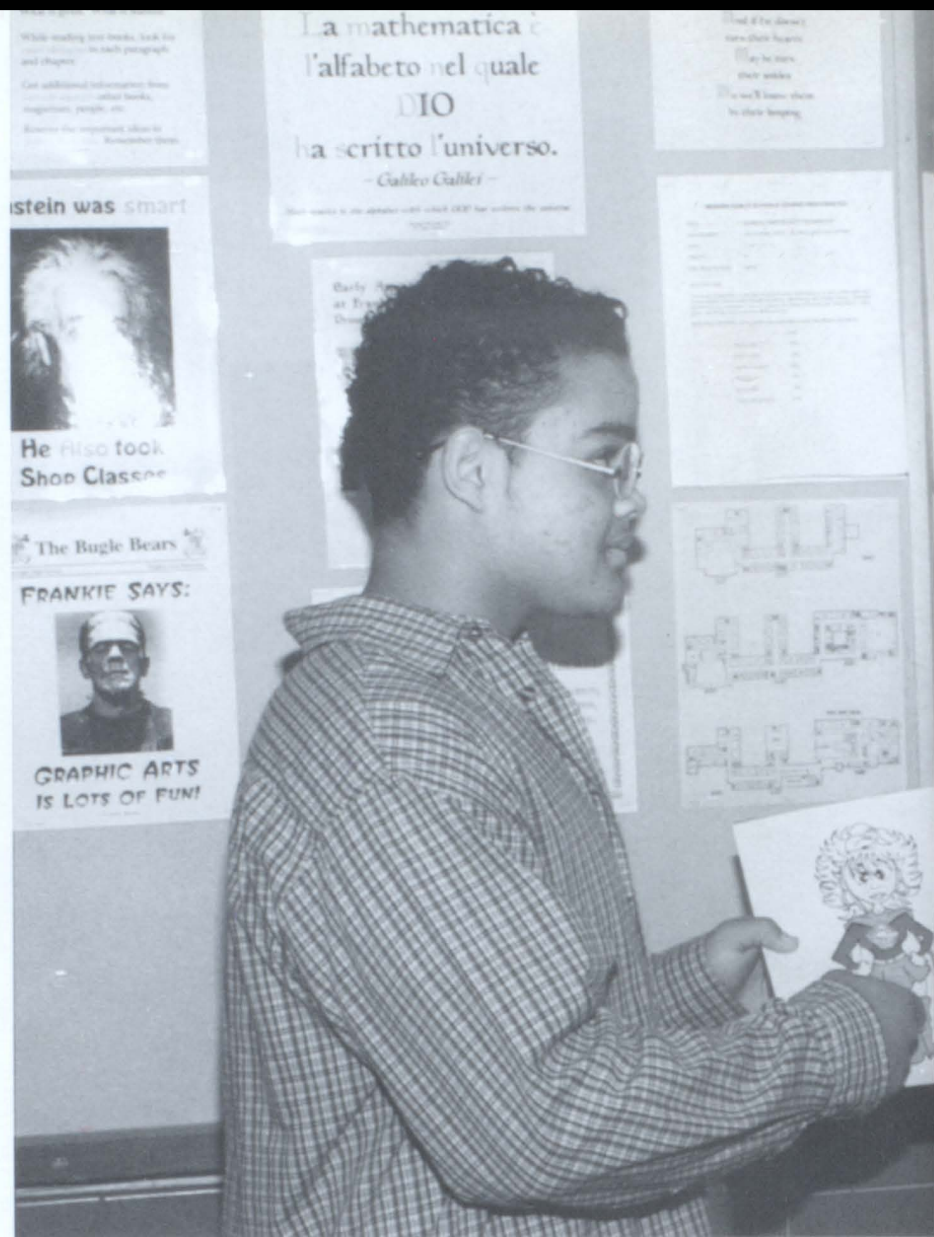

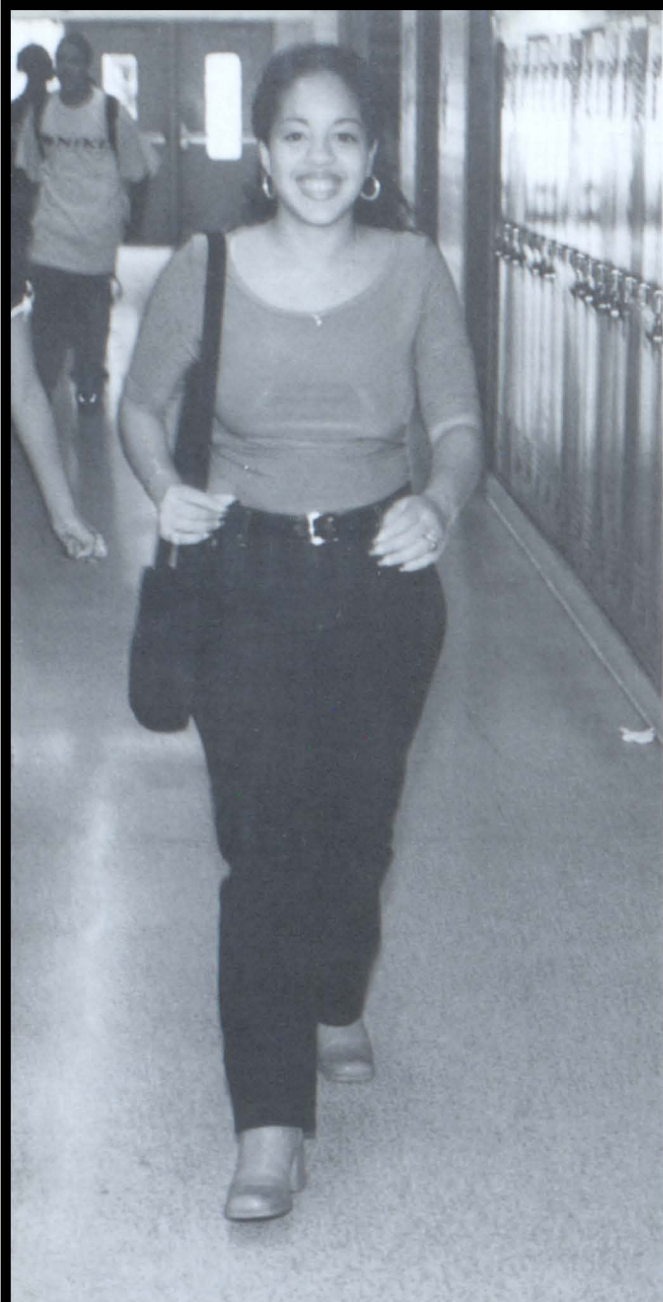

Is this a chemistry project or cafeteria school?

Principal Alan Alvarez

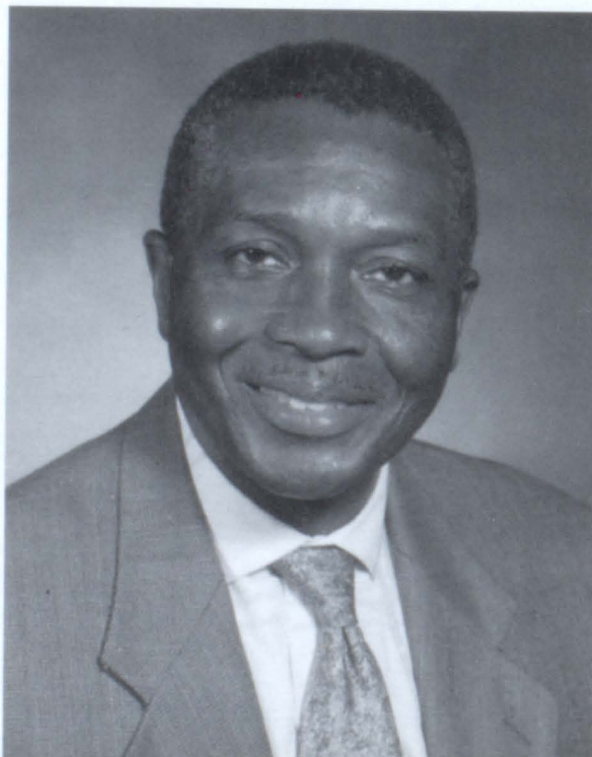

To the graduating class of 1999 I offer sincere congratulations. As you reach the millennium, you face a unique set of life circumstances. Rapid and complex changes in science, culture, economy, technology and politics have combined in ways never before encountered.

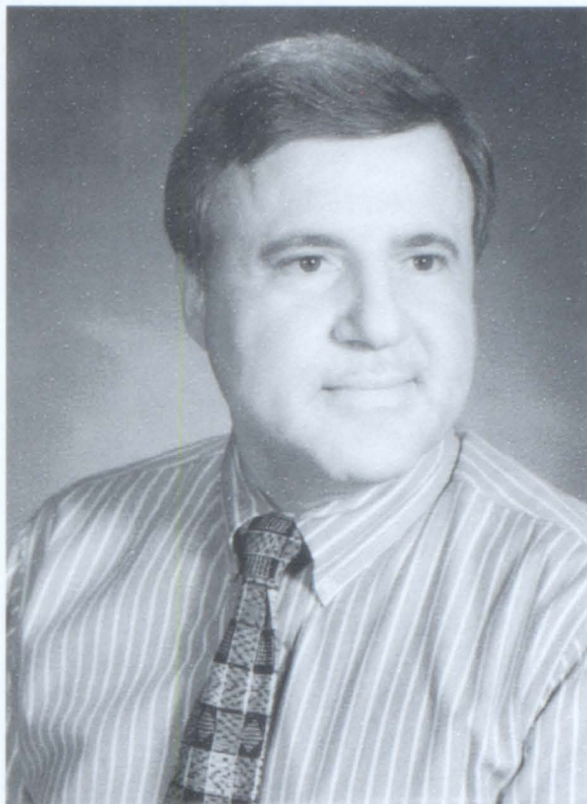

It will be your responsibility as our future leaders to confront the uncertainties and problems created by these elements. Remember to always make decisions in a positive and thoughtful manner. Remember to look for long term solutions and global effects. Remember never to make the same mistake twice. Remember to ask for assistance when needed.

I am confident that you have the intellect, maturity, and sensitivity to successfully meet any challenges placed before you.

The class of 1999 has played an important role in shaping the lives of other students and has significantly affected the thinking of teachers, and administrators that serves them. The efforts of the class of 1999 have revitalized our pursuit of academic excellence by teaching them the qualities of good citizenship that they can use to build a positive communal environment. We will miss your presence, but your pro-social legacy will always be with us.

I Am A Bear

I am a bear
I am a grizzly
I am a Blue Bear.

Full of strength and smile
I protect my heart
And go on my way successfully.

I always put Barringer
On the top of my priority
It always comes first.

I am a bear
I am a grizzly
I am definitely a Blue Bear.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We the graduating class of June 1999 of Barringer High School, Newark, N.J., being of sound mind and judgement, hereby declare this to be our last will and testament:

To my teachers, I leave my sense of adventure to encourage them to create new, interesting, and exciting lesson plans. — Winnie-Maria Grant.

To all my teachers that I ever had, I take this time to thank you for your time and effort in my years of becoming an adult. — Javier Ayala.

To Mr. DiGerlando, we leave the pica rulers and the Macintoshes for there are no more deadlines to be met, only those of life. But also we leave a thousand hugs and all the best wishes. — The Yearbook and Newspaper Staff.

To Ms. Alamo, we leave the paints and brushes, but most important we leave a piece of ourselves amongst those special walls across the school and all our love for years to come. — The Art, Mural, Calligraphy, and the period 5 posse.

To Ms. Hutton, we leave Victor Frankenstein, Grendel, Beowulf, Liegia, and Gregor Samsa, but we also leave her all our writing with all our love 'cause it's time for us to dive into our BNW (Brave New World). — The A.P. Class.

To Dr. Steadman, we leave those blinking equations and the TI-89's, thank you for the enthusiasm of your teaching and of course, those many mornings of breakfast snacks. P.S. We also leave all our spare change because you need the money to get better snacks, we love Bacon! — The A.P. Class.

To Mr. Floyd, we leave you all our laughter & continue to let others chill like we did Mississippi Homeboy! — From all your Senior students.

To Mr. Rodgers, we leave you with your magnifying glass, the faucet water running, and that big ruler just above the black board. —?

To Mrs. Lopez, we leave you all our happy thoughts because in your History class we learned that there is history in the making. Thanks for the interesting and fun times. P.S. '99 is better than 2000, just to let you know. — Kenya Brooks.

To Mr. Catullo, I leave you more students like myself. — Lady D.

To Mrs. Meravi & Aides, I leave you many hugs & kisses for caring & for letting us be in your program. LOVE — Angelo & Auda Cruz.

To Mr. Alvarez and the Day Care Center, I leave you my soul and love for all the things you did for me and my daughter to graduate from Barringer High School. — Tabitha and Tiannah Albaladejo.

To Mrs. Cordasco and especially Mrs. Lopez, I leave you all my thanks for helping me graduate on time. — Gabriel Flores.

To Ms. Riggsbee, I leave you a lifetime supply of Easy-Bake Ovens for you to give to all graduates who passed your class. — Samantha McClinton.

To Mr. Miller, I leave you Excalibur so you can slay the evil dragon Smog to rescue your princess. — Jessica Benavidez

To Mrs. Malik, I leave you your own fashion magazine showing off your fashion because you are the best dressed lady in the whole entire Barringer history. — Damar Christian.

To Mrs. Bornstein, I leave dumb students and more smart ones. — La-Quan Boswell

To Mrs. Coppolo, I leave you a Louieville Slugger to keep law and order in the classroom. — Melissa Hunte.

To Coach Hernandez, we leave you the genetic codes of Reggie White, Randy Moss, John Elway, Barry Sanders, Jason Sehorn, Ben Coates, and John Randle so you can make a new breed for a Barringer High School Super Football Players. — Jaison Frazier.

To Ms. Smith's baby boy that is taking over Frank Martinez's place, we leave you much talent, skills, patience, and a good sense of humor to handle Barringer students. — Marcia Garcia.

To Mrs. Alonso, I leave you a zoo for you to do mad experiments like dissecting elephants, growing hair on turtle shells, and making glow in the dark tomatoes etc. — Celines Marcado.

To Mrs. Grove, I leave you the video tape "How Stella Got Her Groove Back." — Richard Kloepping.

To Mrs. Roth, Mr. Fields, Mrs. Michaels, & Mr. Tortorello, Each a new parking space . . . on Parker St.

To Mr. Delvisco, I leave you the Eiffle Tower for your new vacation home. — Olkania Alvarado.

A New Beginning

Goodbye to young minds for having advanced through the complexity of life. Goodbye to you young creature, who now shines bright and is truly more alive.

Farewell to you who has survived the many voices that at times obscured your narrow path. Farewell because the world is an immense treasure of surprises that is at your hands for you to enjoy.

Look beyond the barriers of life and learn to live because it is reality that withholds you firmly now.

Dream about all that you want to do or be, but remember that it is only you who can make the metamorphosis of fantasy to reality.

A new beginning has come forth and it is now the time when you see with much more than your eyes. It is the time when you feel with much more than your hands.

A new millennium awaits your every command, and it serves you as a fresh starting point in the many unwritten pages and chapters of your life.

A Unique Year!

1999

A wonderful year
An unforgettable year
My graduation year.
I just get the most of these
High school years
Pain and joy, tense and stress.
Tomorrow I'll jump
Laugh, cry and smile
For my remarkable success.
I'll throw my cap in the air
Take a long and hopeful breath.
The high school doors,
May be closed to me now
But I'll have to face
One important thing,
The world
I'll have to prepare for new and different things
I've learned endurance, hope, and most of all, how to be successful.
